SCHMELING-SHARKEY DAY
THE ACHILLES TENDON
LEISURE AND MONEY
DO ANGELS FLY ON SUNDAY

By Arthur Brisbane

TODAY belongs to Messrs. Sharkey and Schmeling. About 85,000 citizens payed $1,000,000 to see the fight. At least 40,000 Americans listened to the fight, blow by blow, on the radio.

GENTLEMEN OF THE gangster type from Chicago, gathered in by New York's police, were hurt when asked if they knew who killed the Tribune reporter. Certainly not, they came to see the fight, not to run from Chicago's shooting squads.

MR. SHARKEY took his part patriotically and wishes you to know over his own signature that he was defending the honor of America "against a foreign invader." If the Kaiser, instead of Schmeling, had come it could not be more serious.

MR. SHARKEY, WHOSE Real name is Cucoshay, is a Lithuanian, first American born generation. It shows how quickly patriotism breeds.

Professional gamblers bet 2 to 1 on him, which should have meant victory for him, and preservation for our national honor.

MR. NELSON ROCKEFELLER, grandson of John D. Rockefeller, writes on "The Use of Leisure" in the Dartmouth alumni magazine. The article is well written, serious. In time the young man's problem will be "the use of money." His father and grandfather do not live extravagantly. They give away a great deal, but compound interest is more powerful than their giving. With any sort of management the third generation of Rockefellers should have at least five billions of dollars, a large sum to use satisfactorily.

THE Prince of Wales flew from England to Le Touquet for a game of golf on Sunday, and churchmen at Cardiff wired him:

"Your royal highness should set a higher example to your royal subjects by refraining from encouraging desecration of the Sabbath."

PERHAPS HE IS asking the archbishop of Canterbury whether the angels fly on Sunday or fold their wings on Saturday midnight, to keep them folded until Monday morning.

Certain springs were once known to be holy and gathered profitable crowds, because they yielded not a drop of water on the Sabbath. This has not happened lately, although it would still be easy to arrange a water supply that could be turned off.

A YOUNG AMERICAN twin, Jenny of the Dolly sisters, sat up all night in a gambling house at Le Touquet, France, playing bacarrat. And as the sun rose she went to bed with 2,000,000 francs winning, about $80,000. At least, she and the press agent say so.

AS THE YOUNG lady retired to her summer, the gambling house owners called her blessed. For their 2,000,000 francs, if really won, they will get 500,000 francs worth of free advertising. Fools will crowd their tables and later Miss Dolly will return the $80,000 with interest.

CALL MONEY, USED for stock speculating, cost only two and a half per cent today, and four or five hundred millions could not be lent. Sad for bankers, lately wallowing in 15 per cent call money.

Senate Votes On Tariff Measure Today

VICTORY OF TWO VOTES VISIONED BY PROPONENTS

Congress Will Speed Up Measure To Get It Before Hoover

REED, GRUNDY FOR PASSING MEASURE

Industry Could Proceed With Certainty If Bill Is Favored

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The senate today passed the tariff bill by adopting the conference reports.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 13.—One year, five months, and six days from the day it began to take form back in the waning weeks of the Coolidge administration, the tariff bill approached a final vote in the senate today with Republican leaders confident of passage by at least two votes.

Meeting an hour earlier than usual to give remaining speakers an opportunity to explain their votes, the debate-exhausted legislators were given but three hours to talk tariff before a showdown vote on the conference reports at 2 p. m.

Speed House Approval House leaders had announced that in event of affirmative senate action they would call up the conference agreement tomorrow with a view to completing congressional approval before the weekend.

President Hoover would have a week or more to sign or veto the bill before the end of the session. Should he sign it—as administration chiefs have predicted he will—the first tariff legislation in eight years and the twenty-first revision since the initial tariff act of 1897 would take effect the following day.

Proponents of the measure could see no chance of defeat, especially in view of yesterday's announcements by Senator Reed and Grundy, Republicans of Pennsylvania, that they would support it even though they thought it failed to meet the party's 1928 convention pledges.

Reserving judgment until yesterday, the two Pennsylvanians took the view that it would be better to pass the Hawley-Smoot measure and let business plan with some degree of certainty than to reject it and permit agitation for another revision which would keep industry in suspense that much longer. The bill as it stood at the final roll call was not the measure, which passed either house or senate, but was a compromise between the two, reached by conferees of the two houses, as was the case in virtually all the 20 tariff bills that preceded it.

WOMAN KNOWN HERE EXPIRES

Miss Maude L. Snowden, aunt of Mrs. Louis H. Brush of Salem, died at 6 p. m. Thursday while seated at the dinner table at her home in Church Hill, Trumbull county. Angina pectoris was the cause. Miss Snowden lived with her sister, Mrs. Sarah G. Stewart, for several years and prior to that made her home in Philadelphia. She was widely known in Salem, having resided at the Brush home at different periods.

Her sister, Mrs. Stewart, and nieces are her only survivors. Funeral service will be held at 4 p. m. Sunday at the home in Church Hill. Sunday night the body will be taken to Hoagstown, Pa., near Harrisburg, to the Silver Spring church where her former pastor, Dr. T. J. Ferguson, will have charge of a service Monday afternoon. Burial in Silver Spring cemetery.

He will fly to Richmond, Va., then to New York, then eastward across the Atlantic.

MAJOR SEGRAVE DIES AS SPEED BOAT CAPSIZES

Holder Of World's Title For Automobile Speed Wrecks In Test

(By The Associated Press) WINDERMERE, ENGL., June 13.—Major Sir Henry O. Segrave, internationally known speed king, died shortly after 5 o'clock this evening from injuries he suffered when his speed boat over turned on Lake Windermere.

The famous racer, who holds the world automobile record of 231 miles an hour lost his life while testing out his newest speed boat, Miss Engand II, with which he hoped to capture the international trophy at Detroit this summer.

While pounding along on the lake at a speed of about 100 miles an hour, the boat suddenly was seen to turn over and plunge into the water. Segrave was dragged from the wreck by the owners of speed launches which shot to his assistance. He was taken to a nearby hotel and was found to have suffered a broken arm, a broken rib and a fractured thigh.

There were two companions in the boat with him, Mechanic E. Halliwell, who believed to have been caught under the boat which sank within half an hour, efforts to find his body were made immediately. The third member of the crew, M. J. Willocks was badly injured and was taken to a hospital.

Akron Pastor To Lecture In Salem

Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Cooper, of Akron, of North Hill Evangelical church, will appear in costume Tuesday evening at the First Baptist church in an illustrated lecture on Palestine. Rev. Cooper is known in Salem having lectured at the high school, a number of years ago. This lecture, sponsored by the young people of the church, is open to the public.

Although there will be no admission charge, an offering will be taken, and this money will go to the building fund. This is one of a series of events, arranged by the young people, for each month. Next month a musical program will be given.

Father Time Gives Reason For Alibis; Glance At Calendar

Did something or other go wrong today for which you have no plausible explanation? Did your favorite stock drop a few unexpected points or did everything go unusually wrong at the office or during shop hours? Don't take any $2 bills and by all means don't allow any ebony-colored felines to cross before you on your way to or returning from work. Avoid cross-eyed persons, walking under ladders, black cats and other hoodoos as if very life depends on it.

And everytime something goes amiss—the family automobile refuses to start, your wife repeatedly trumps your ace or an opponent draws a royal flush to your fours, you've an alibi prepared for you by Father Time. For the Fates smile today with a cynical grin that is viewed with horror by many. To the superstitious it is a day filled with possibilities of tragic events. Today is Friday the 13th.

TRANSPORTING CHARGES FACE SALEM YOUTH

Stoffer Makes Arrest As Car Travels On City Thoroughfare

George Stankovitch, Aetna st. will face trial in Mayor J. M. Davidson's court on two charges of violation of city liquor ordinances at 2 p. m. Tuesday, the result of his arrest Thursday by Patrolman Ralph Stoffer.

The youth was arrested on South Broadway and is alleged to have had more than 50 pints of whiskey in the rear seat of his automobile. Follows In Car Stoffer followed him in the city's police touring car from Columbia st. to South Broadway. Stankovitch was accompanied by Mrs. Jennie Sage, Columbia st., who has been convicted of liquor violations here several times, Stoffer stated. She was not held.

Stankovitch denied possession of the liquor and stated that he had not known it was in the automobile. Charges of possession and transportation of intoxicating liquors were filed against him by Police Chief T. W. Thompson on Stoffer's report of the case. Pleas of not guilty were entered to both counts when Stankovitch was arraigned before Davidson. He posted $1,000 bond for appearance in Davidson's court for trial next Tuesday.

A charge of unlawfully transporting intoxicating liquors was filed by Thompson against Clarence Schaffer, New Albany, today. Schaffer is being held in city jail with Albert Fisher, West Wilson st., in default of fine and costs imposed against them on their pleas of guilty to charges of possession.

Both were arrested in a raid on Fisher's home Monday night and were fined $200 and costs. A quantity of whiskey is reported to have been confiscated in Fisher's home while Schaffer admitted ownership of liquor found in his automobile when he drove up to the former's residence, for the purpose, police state, of delivering a five-gallon can of whiskey to Fisher. Schaffer has not been arraigned on the transportation charge yet.

124 Children Take Clinic Examination

One hundred and twenty-four children who will enter school in September for the first time were examined in the free clinic held at Memorial building this week. The clinic was in charge of Mrs. Ruth Kase, school nurse, and most of the doctors and dentists of Salem, gave their services. Nurses who assisted were Miss Anna Thomas and Miss Elizabeth Steer, of Salem, and Miss Michaels, county nurse. Children examined include those from Salem, Perry township and St. Paul's Parochial school. Alan stated that he had 165 on the list, although only 124 were in for examination.

Fairmount Children To Present Concert

LISBON, June 13.—Children from the Fairmount Children's home at Alliance will give a concert in the Lisbon Presbyterian church next Tuesday evening. The children will be under the direction of Supt. R. D. George and Mrs. R. D. George, matron.

This is the first time the children from this institution have been in concert in Columbiana county in two years.

MULLINS PLANT TO HOLD PICNIC NEXT SATURDAY

Committee Formed For Annual Outing At Idora Park

INVITATIONS SENT TO 1,500 WORKERS

Ticket Distribution Will Be Held At Office Of Plant Two Days

The Mullins Manufacturing corporation will hold its annual picnic at Idora park, Youngstown, Saturday, June 21. Complete plans for the outing were announced by John C. Alzner, chairman of the general committee in charge of the affair, today.

Approximately 4,000 persons, employees of the corporation, their wives and children, attended the picnic last year. The same number are anticipated this year. Alzner predicted, despite the fact that less persons are on the plant's present payroll than there were in 1929.

All persons who were employed by Mullins on July 1, 1929, have been sent invitations to attend the picnic. Tickets will be distributed at the main entrance to the plant between 12 noon and 1 p. m. and after 5 p. m. on next Thursday and Friday.

Employees are asked to list the number of tickets desired for the affair. More than 1,500 families have been notified, but only a small percentage have answered. Alzner stated. All questionnaires must be submitted to the employment office not later than Monday in order for those receiving them to receive tickets. The picnic is being held for all persons who have been employed at the Mullins plant in the past and is not limited to those who are now included on the payroll.

General committee—J. C. Alzner, chairman; H. E. Smith, Neil Grisez, Sports committee—Charles West, chairman; E. M. Murley, Mike Theil, Ed. Bonnell, Howard Milligan.

Ticket distribution committee—Paul Covert, chairman; Lloyd Heacock, John Stewart.

Refreshment committee—Earl Allen, chairman; C. J. Ruhl; James Britt, Harry Percival, Solly Shives.

Brize committee—Blanche Kyle, chairman; Dwight Hang, Samuel Watkins.

Drawing contest—James Kessel-mire and John Koontz.

START SATURDAY WITH PLANS TO END VIOLATIONS

Leniency Will Not Be Afforded Those Who Break City Laws

IGNORANCE TO BE NO EXCUSE

Operators Of Machines In City Should Know Law, Davidson States

One of the most effective and thorough campaigns against violations of city traffic ordinances ever conducted in this city will be started Saturday. Mayor John M. Davidson announced today following a conference with Police Chief T. W. Thompson and Traffic Patrolman Ralph Stoffer.

The drive will be conducted with the purpose of eliminating all traffic violations in the city. No leniency whatever will be shown towards motorists committing more serious violations, Davidson announced.

"I have shown leniency towards the majority of automobile drivers who have appeared before me for various minor violations in the past few months. The results have not been at all successful and we find that more severe action must be taken in the immediate future."

Stoffer has frequently requested that action be taken in reducing the number of traffic violations here and today brought the matter to a climax in petitioning Davidson and Thompson to warn the public that a campaign against violators will start immediately.

The city's new police motorcycle, damaged recently in an accident in which Patrolman Edward Miller figured, is now at a factory for repairs but will be returned to this city early next week. Until it is received the police touring car will be used in the search of violators.

Districts where parking is prohibited have been painted orange in all sections of the city. Thompson explained, and all motorists are asked to keep machines away from these restricted zones. Every automobile found parked in these sections, if only for a short period, will be tagged and the driver ordered to appear before Mayor Davidson.

Must Know Laws "All motorists are, or at least should be, familiar with the city's traffic code. Those who are not acquainted with these laws should not operate a motor vehicle inside the city limits until they become familiar with them," Davidson stated.

Too many persons park in prohibited zones for a short period, leave the car and run into a nearby store. Double-parking is a frequent violation also, and both will be dealt with severely starting Saturday. Our traffic laws, just as are those laws which concern felonies, have been enacted for protection of life and property.

"Thoughtlessness and carelessness have caused many minor accidents in the past 30 days. It is the intention of this drive to reduce these accidents to a minimum."

DEPUTY'S WIDOW FILES PETITION

Mrs. Elliott Seeks Position As Columbiana County Recorder; Second Woman In Race

LISBON, June 13.—Mrs. Edith Galbreath Elliott, widow of James F. Elliott, late Columbiana county deputy sheriff, today announced her candidacy for the Republican nomination for office of county recorder.

Mrs. Elliott's petition, containing signatures of 100 Lisbon voters, will be filed with the county board of elections at East Liverpool today. Mrs. Elliott has been a resident of Columbiana county since birth. Her early life was spent in Rogers, Ohio.

She is the second woman to announce intentions of seeking a political office at the August primaries. Mrs. Myrtle Stoffel of St. Clair township is also a candidate for recorder. Six persons seek the Republican nomination for this office.

Dog Along Tracks Blamed For Spill

LISBON, June 13.—A dog racing along the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, between Smiths Ferry and Midland, Pa., and causing the derailment of a speeder upon which Clarence Bauman, aged 23, of Wellsville, signal repairman, was riding, is the cause of a $10,000 damage action filed in common pleas court by Bauman against the company.

The speeder was being driven by George Beck, and according to the petition, Beck encouraged the dog as it was running along the track. When the speeder was derailed, Bauman was thrown onto the tracks and severely injured.

PRECEDENT VS. PREROGATIVE

The United States senate does not expect to receive the confidential documents and information concerning the naval treaty that it has requested, but it presses the demand for them as a matter of policy to keep the records straight.

Friction between the President and the senate over confidential data goes back to the early days of American history. The senate has insisted that it be taken into the President's confidence when treaties are at stake, and presidents, from the time of Washington, have consistently refused to do so.

The senate's fight to examine state communications during the London conference is waged on its assumed prerogative of inspection. The continental congress, in establishing the department of foreign affairs, provided that all its records and papers should be open to any member of this provision was framed and the state department was created.

On this point, a majority report of the senate judiciary committee said, in 1886, that "it was not thought necessary to enact that congress be entitled to inspect such (secret) papers, for that right was supposed to exist by the very nature of things."

The President's denial of the senate's current demand is based upon precedent. President Washington went in person to the senate in 1789 with an Indian treaty. The senate angered him by debating the treaty and proposing alterations, whereupon he withdrew, vowing never to go before the senate again with a treaty. In 1796 President Washington refused a request of the house of representatives for documents on the negotiation of a treaty with Great Britain "excepting such of the said papers as any existing negotiation may render improper to be disclosed. President Washington said on that occasion: "The nature of foreign negotiations requires caution, and their success must often depend on secrecy, and even when brought to a conclusion a full disclosure of all the measures, demands, or eventual concessions which may have been proposed or contemplated would be extremely impolitic; for this might have a pernicious effect on future negotiations, or produce immediate inconveniences, perhaps danger and mischief, in relation to other powers."

In 1922 President Harding wrote in reply to the senate's request for "records, minutes, arguments, debates, conversations, etc." Relating to the four power Pacific treaty: "I do not believe it to be compatible with public interest or consistent with the amenities of international negotiation to attempt to reveal informal and confidential conversations or discussions, of which no record was kept, or to submit tentative suggestions or in formal proposal, without which the arrival at desirable international understanding would be rendered unlikely if not impossible."

Secretary of State Stimson took the stand in his letter or refusal to the senate's demand for confidential data in his possession that "the question whether this treaty is or is not in the interest of the United States and should or should not be ratified by the senate must in the last even be determined from the language of the document itself and not from extraneous matter."

The senate has no justification for objecting to the state department's refusal other than defense of its prerogative. If it had shown itself willing and capable of doing anything with the confidential information it demands other than causing delay and further adding to confusion it would not have such a strong precedent upon which to break its teeth.

GOLIATH FALTERS
It is as though Goliath offered the boy David an apple and slew himself on his own spearpoint when Thaddeus H. Caraway, Democratic senator from Jonesboro, Ark., backs down before Bishop James Cannon Jr. Such a friendly front as the militant Arkansas warrior has put up is so completely inconsistent with his department for the last six months that it ranks well with the best miracles of the year 1939.

Bishop Cannon will not be compelled to answer questions about his 1928 anti-Smith activities, the senate lobby committee rules. It also is improbable that he will be called to account for his independent attitude in the presence of the senatorial browbeaters. In fact, the way matters stand now, it appears to be a clean victory for the bishop. Senator Caraway is a voluntary casualty and the other members of the committee find their hands tied by the precedent which the churchman's opposition created.

Senator Caraway's unexpected faltering at the zero hour shakes public confidence in his invulnerability. At Little Rock, Ark., where he happened to be when the committee started its work he pronounced that his fellow committee-men were in error when they tried to question Bishop Cannon concerning his political activities. He went even further in his apologies later when he admitted: "The committee has done a lot of fool things. I think I contributed most."

No one doubts that an honest confession is good for the soul and that Senator Caraway feels better for having made a retrenchment. The public agrees generally with the lobby committee's chairman that he has contributed materially to its follies. Meanwhile, however, what about Mr. Caraway's prestige? The mailed fist is now but a palsied hand. In short, the Arkansas disciple of purgation has renounced voluntarily his title of privileged abuser of others.

What Others Say

THE COST OF ELECTIONS
Ever since the election of Newberry as a senator from Michigan the senate has kept a watchful and jealous eye upon expenditures in senatorial elections. Mr. Newberry's modest budget of less than $200,000 eventually forced him out of public life. Because Frank Smith of Illinois, not only spent twice as much, but received contributions from companies which had business with the state commission of which he was a member. Because Mr. McCormick spent $232,000 of her own money in Illinois. And in Pennsylvania Senator Grundy put $291,000 of his own funds in what proved to be an unsuccessful campaign.

Decidedly, senatorial politics remains a rich man's game. The senate has not yet shown any poor man how to make a successful race for a place in its membership. If a poor man happens to have the support of a great political organization, he may get off—as Secretary Davis, who is not a poor man, did—with a personal contribution of $10,000. But unless the influential bosses are behind him in certain states he has no chance at all. Yet what can be done about it? Senate records and inspection have merely cut down direct expenditures in Pennsylvania and Illinois; the money is still lavishly spread in those states. For 50 days the thousands of members of the Philadelphia organization, their families and their allies out in the state devoted much of their time to the cause of Secretary Davis. If they had been paid for their time by the Vard-Davis committee, has Senator Grundy paid his workers, the sum might have reached more than 1,000,000. They received their compensation in other ways, but that does not alter the system. The same thing was true of McCormick workers in Illinois.

Under the present primary, Senator Grundy has no alternative but unlimited spending. He does not believe, he told the committee, in attempted curbs of any kind. That he personally spent in pursuing a nomination $221,000 more than he would have received in salary for six years did not impress him as any affair of congress or of the people. Undoubtedly Mr. Vard agrees with him. The senate can not go on barring rich men who have the money to spend against machine-backed candidates who can summon paid helpers. But can and should congress attempt to define the categories in which money may be spent, eliminating paid workers at the polls? That would be unfair to non-machine candidates. Can congress attempt to set up limits of expenditure? Circumventions of the law will be found. So long as the direct primary is maintained the effort to take office from the auction block seems hopeless.—New York Times.

Twenty Years Ago

(Issue of June 13, 1919)

The city jail afforded lodging for ten persons, charged with intoxication, over Sunday, the biggest haul for some time.

Robert Callahan, East Green St., has purchased the grocery store of Smith & Fisher, the East End Grocers. Mr. Callahan is a popular young man and has been associated with the retail grocery business for a number of years.

The Odd Fellows lodge held its annual Memorial service Sunday. Over 70 graves in Salem cemeteries were decorated.

The property at the corner of McKinley and Ohio aces, owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, and known as the Archbold property, has been purchased by L. A. Callahan. This house, originally owned by John D. Archbold, of Standard Oil fame, was remodeled in 1880.

With resolutions upholding the sanctity of the Sabbath day, concerning Sunday baseball and scoring leaders of the two old parties for their lack of economy in public office, prohibitionists of Columbiana county met in convention at Lisbon last Friday.

Miss Mabel I. Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards, of Broadway, and Paul C. Ingram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ingram, residing north of Salem, were united in marriage Saturday evening by Rev. E. E. Whitacre, Lincoln ave.

Salem friends of Miss M. Anita Hard have received invitations to attend her marriage to Ralph W. Wilson, Delaware, at the home of Kirkwood, Mo., former Salem residents, on June 22.

In appreciation of his eight years service, the Buckeye Engine company has presented C. F. Tolzien with a handsome sterling silver tureen, and other gifts. H. H. Sharp, president of the company, made the presentation at the uncheon Monday at the office building.

Otis White, who has been confined to his home for the last two weeks, suffering from blood poisoning, was able to resume his duties on the transfer wagon.

These whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of great business and social liveliness, with matters moving in high tempo in both directions. Literary and cultural interests should thrive, but the smooth, easy events should not be marred by sarcastic or caustic speech. A child born on this day should be brilliant and versatile mentally and socially and should find position, pleasure and progress in many directions, as it should be intellectual, artistic and cultured.

"EPISTAXIS"

"Epistaxis" is another name for nose bleed. Nature shows her great curative powers in every child who has nose-bleed. She nicely opens a safety valve to prevent mischief. The fluid which is lost is almost instantaneously replaced by the body, which draws water from the tissues. Thus it is that persons who have suffered greatly from nosebleeds have severe thirst. The water must be replaced in the tissues without delay.

Some persons are particularly susceptible to nose-bleed. In some families there seems to be a hereditary tendency to recurrent attacks. It might come on at any time of day or night. They may be awakened from sleep with a bad bleeding from the nose. It is, however, never a serious condition. Nasal catarrh is a very common cause of nose bleed. Anaemic children and growing children are especially susceptible to it.

Epistaxis is some times mistaken for a hemorrhage from the lungs or stomach, when the bleeding occurs in the sleep and some of the blood is swallowed. In such a case it is quite natural that the blood should be vomited the next morning. The experience is apt to cause some alarm, especially if the patient is nervous or easily frightened.

Usually the bleeding stops of its own accord. If it should persist there are simple methods which are nearly always successful. One is the application of cold water or ice to the nose and back of the neck. If this does not check it try snuffing up the nose a very small amount of pulverized alum or tannic acid.

Rest is essential. Have the patient lie down or recline in an easy chair with the head thrown back. In rare cases it is necessary to have the nose plugged in order to stop the bleeding. Your doctor should be consulted in the matter.

When there is an ulcer in the nose it may be necessary to have the ulcerated spot touched with a caustic, but your doctor should do this. Whenever there is recurrent nose-bleeding a doctor should be consulted. He may give you much annoyance and suffering.

Highlights Of Ohio History
By J. H. GALBRAITH

In these days when one may step into his automobile and whisking away, arrive at the shore of the lake or reach the banks of the Ohio river in three hours, it is hard to realize the difficulties of travel in the beginning of the state. Caleb Atwater, the early Ohio historian, asserted that when the state was organized there was not a single bridge in the state. Streams were either ferried or forded as the situation determined.

As for the roads of the time, they were simply marked trails and apparently not very well marked, at that, for Atwater says that after ten years of organized Ohio government, when he travelled, he preferred to cut directly across the country, using a compass to keep direction, and avoid the so-called roads.

Of course at this stage of road development, nothing went on wheels. All traveling that was done was done either on foot or horseback. Business men, lawyers and judges all rode horses and carried their luggage, not only in saddle-bags but their subsistence as well, for while they planned to reach a settlement by night, and usually they did, sometimes, in fact frequently, they were obliged to pass the night in woods, as Atwater said he had good reason to remember.

And improvements came very slowly as to public roads. S. P. McIlvanie, describing a trip he made from Delaware to Columbus as late as 1839 to attend a whig mass meeting, said the four horse coach in which he traveled was frequently mired. It was a January thaw accompanied by heavy rains. He left Delaware in the early morning, intending to reach Columbus by evening, but the progress was so slow that it was dark before they arrived at Worthington and Columbus was reached at 2 a. m. the next day.

New York—There's lots of water available atop the biggest skyscraper. Firemen have found the pressure was up in the Chrysler building to be 70 pounds to the square inch, or 15 pounds more than on the street.

CHICAGO PEOPLE ASK ACTION IN HALTING CRIME

Indignation Aroused By Murder Results In Much Activity

CHICAGO, June 13.—The cry for action in the hunt for the slayer of Alfred (Duke) Lingle, Tribune reporter, rose higher and higher today, but with no indication from authorities of any new clues or of any prospect of immediate results.

Indignation over the murder was fast translating itself into criticism of police, of the city administration, even of the Chicago crime commission which one minister—Rev. Philip Yarrow—classified as “a lot of bunk.” Dr. Yarrow, chairman of the political action committee of the Chicago Federation of Churches, called for a mass meeting for the expression of the ministry’s “indignation” over crime conditions.

Police Are Active

There was no lack of police activity as motor squads cruised through every part of the city, making arrests; but though the police net was drawn tight, the grist of arrests showed no well known gangsters. Indeed, as officials admitted, off of the more than 600 men arrested, only a small percentage could be classified as gangsters. Mostly they were nondescripts, minor hoodlums and “bums.”

Leaders of the Methodist, Lutheran and Presbyterian denominations announced the opening of a campaign of education against crime from every Methodist pulpit in Chicago.

Representatives of all Chicago daily newspapers printed in English met late yesterday and adopted a resolution decrying “the intolerable outrages of the past year against civic decency and public security which ended dramatically in the cowardly murder of Alfred J. Lingle.”

Mayor Thompson indicated that the city administration might step forward with a plan of action against gangsters today. He planned a conference with members of his cabinet and other administration leaders.

CRITICISM FOR FARM ACTIONS

Use Of Funds For Wheat Purchase Denounced By Chamber

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The controversy over the federal farm board’s activities in the grain market was laced squarely before the senate today as chairman of the board.

Intensive criticism of the board’s policies has been expressed in business circles, particularly by the United States Chamber of Commerce. This was based upon the contention that the board’s use of $500,000,000 revolving fund in buying grain hampered competition and was detrimental to private interests.

Announcing Legge’s reappointment late yesterday, the White House also made public the nomination of C. C. Teague of California, to serve a second term on the board. At the same time the nomination of W. Cameron Forbes of Boston as ambassador to Japan was announced.

Legge and Teague were originally appointed to serve one year terms, these ending at midnight tomorrow. The confirmation of Legge was opposed a year ago by farm organizations and senators from the northwest.

With the Forbes appointment the last of the major diplomatic vacancies was filled. He succeeds William Castle, who served at Tokyo temporarily during the London naval conference and is soon to return to his post as assistant secretary of state.

6 DOGS ATTACK GIRL WOUNDED

Condition Of Small Child Serious Wounds: Saved By Father

CHICAGO, June 13.—Six pedigreed collie dogs that escaped from a kennel at suburban Niles Center, attacked Lillian Meier, 6 years old, last night and seriously wounded the child before they were driven off by her father. Two of the animals returned to the kennel last night and police were ordered to shoot the other four on sight.

The child was unconscious and bleeding from wounds on her arms and neck when the father, August Meier, heard the dogs fighting over her. She was taken to a hospital where doctors said her wounds and the loss of blood might be fatal.

Large Brewery In Chicago Is Raided

CHICAGO, June 13.—One of the largest sources of Chicago’s beer supply was shut off today after a raid on a mammoth brewery at 2508 South Wabash Street, within a few blocks of the Metropole hotel, reported headquarters for the Capone interests.

District Chief Alexander G. Jamieson of the federal prohibition forces said the raid yesterday, made after weeks of undercover investigation, resulted in the arrest of one man and the seizure of 50,000 gallons of barreled beer, 75 half-barrels and 150,000 gallons of beer in process of manufacture.

Charles Wynert, 30, the only man arrested, insisted he was merely a repairman called to adjust some machinery.

Matthews Continues Attempt To Drive For 100 Hours

Showing marked evidence of the strain he has undergone in hours of driving through and near Salem, “Daredevil” Matthews today completed 72 hours of his attempt to drive for 100 hours without sleep or rest.

Matthews was handcuffed to the steering wheel of his automobile Tuesday afternoon by a Salem policeman. He started his drive in a downpour, but has been favored by better weather since the early hours of his attempt.

Matthews’ attendants became concerned early Friday morning when it appeared that the strain of his drive might prove too much and he would be forced to quit. Added precautions are being made to insure that no accidents can occur should Matthews’ collapse behind the wheel.

RENEW APPEAL IN NAVY PACT

Administration Asks For Speedy Action; Stimson Lauds Treaty For Peace

WASHINGTON, June 13.—A renewed appeal from the administration for early action on the London naval treaty faced the senate foreign relations committee today as it continued its series of daily sessions intended to end in a vote on the pact.

Assailing the opponents of the treaty here, in Great Britain and in Japan for a “narrow viewpoint,” Secretary Stimson last night delivered a radio address in which he said the London conference was “one of the great victories for peace.”

The treaty, he said, “is the culmination of a 10-year movement toward peace between the various naval powers of the world and also a step in the vitalization of the Kellogg-Briand pact.”

President Resigns

COLUMBUS, June 13.—Because he said he did not favor the methods of operation of the association in Ohio, L. B. Palmer president of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation, has resigned as president and director of the National Wool Marketing corporation.

Native Land Honors Minister Who Has Led Flock For Year

Degree Awarded At Ohio School For Services Among People

COLUMBUS, O., June 13.—For more than twenty-five years the Rev. Alexander Cautoros, of this city, has toiled among his Hungarian countrymen in America, sometimes forming splendid human potteries from elemental human clay—and Thursday through the agency of Western Reserve university, in Cleveland, he is to be rewarded by his native land.

For at commencement exercises of this institution Dr. Cautoros received the honorary degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology from the University of Debrecz, Hungary. The degree had been sent to the Cleveland institution, and members of the faculty will present it to the pastor, who, in 1898 was sent to

END FORSEEN IN CHINA WARFARE

Officers Send Word Of Possibilities Of Settlement

SHANGHAI, June 13.—China’s ever-changing political horizon today gave indication of pending internal changes which if carried through may involve cessation of the present civil war and selection of new officials for the Nanking nationalistic government.

Divergent viewpoints on the situation were displayed by civil and military groups in Nanking.

Apparently authentic advices from the capital stated that high nationalistic civil officers were discussing the possibilities of a peaceful settlement.

The nationalist military, through the government’s Executive News agency, countered immediately with a vigorous denial of all Armistice reports, and announced that on the contrary the nationalist government was preparing for a powerful military campaign against its foes.

The reports from the civil group said that Chang Hsueh-Liang, governor of Manchuria, and Li Chi-Sen, former governor of Canton, were being urged to undertake mediation in the present conflict.

DEATH CHAIR TO END MAN’S LIFE

Negro Who Killed Station Worker To Pay Penalty After Many Stays Of Life.

COLUMBUS, June 13.—With virtually no hope of a stay, Lee Akers, Negro, appeared unconcerned today as he prepared to die in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary for the murder of a filling station attendant during a holdup in Cuyahoga county.

He will be the second man to pay the death penalty since the prison fire of April 21.

Until time for the execution, Akers will be kept at city jail where, with the other “death row” prisoners, he has been housed since the recent mutiny at the prison. He spent last night reading and smoking and smoking and talking with other prisoners.

The Negro first was sentenced to die in August 1929, but was granted five stays. He was received at the penitentiary April 10, 1929.

America to become pastor of a little East Side Hungarian church in Cleveland.

Church Grows, Expands

Under the deft theological touch of Dr. Cautoros, who understood his own people as he might understand books he had read often, the church grew and expanded, and the people became happier and more powerful. Immigrants lingered outside the gates in the winter, when singing came through the stained glass windows, and eventually they found homes through the agency of the kindly divine. For fourteen years Dr. Cautoros labored in his Cleveland pulpit. Then he returned to Hungary for a year permitting himself once more the luxury of walking on the wide streets of Budapest. But he could no longer resist the call of his work in the New World, and a year later he returned to become pastor of the West Side Reformed church in Cleveland.

In 1926 Dr. Cautoros came to this city—where he has carried on his work faithfully ever since.

Dr. Cautoros was born in the little town of Mismaria, Hungary, at the close of the American Civil war, in 1863. During his boyhood many of his townsmen and countrymen went to the United States.

They left their wives and children behind, and later sent for them. There was magic in the Western Hemisphere, Dr. Cautoros was eager to see it for himself. But he must be educated first. No more hours of play must he spend in his native village. He must study hard.

He went to the University of Debrecz, where he received elementary degrees and then he boarded an ocean liner and came to the United States to minister to his people.

Ministers Were Few

A quarter of a century ago there were only five Hungarian ministers in the United States. Dr. Cautoros was the only Hungarian pastor in Ohio. He traveled between cities, in the summertime holding outdoor meetings and preaching the gospel in his native tongue. Finally each of the principal cities became strong enough to support its own church. Thirty-seven reformed churches of Hungarians were organized in Ohio and Dr. Cautoros was the leader in this expansion. He became moderator and later president of the Hungarian Reformed Federation of America, of the Hungarian-American National Federation and the United Hungarian Societies.

He took an active part in the erection of a monument to Louis Kossuth, the Hungarian patriot. This monument stands in University Circle, Cleveland.

Dr. Cautoros today is both delighted and surprised that his native land has remembered and honored him—far away in a new world.

PEOPLE GATHER FROM ALL OVER WORLD FOR PLAY

Little Village Gaining Fame For Passion Presentation

OBERAMMERGAU, June 13.—Oberammergau, the historic Passion Play village, is tucked away in the foothills of the Bavarian Alps, some 60 miles south of Munich and hardly 15 miles from the Austrian frontier. The quiet and reclusive mountain community, where the first performance of the holy tragedy is to be given tomorrow, is once more to become the destination of innumerable people from all over the globe.

The term "tourist" is purposely avoided, for the great majority of the many hundred thousands, who, this summer, will throng the streets and by-ways of the village, are not sight-seers; they are like pilgrims, who in due reverence, come to witness the great and sacred tragedy.

In Upper Ammer Area

Oberammergau, as its name implies, is situated in the Upper Ammer district, named after the Ammer, a mountain stream, which traverses the upper and lower Ammer districts. Oberammergau is not only one of the most picturesque, but also one of the oldest settlements in Bavaria, for its origin may be traced back almost to the times of Christ. The village lies about midway between the Via Claudia and the Roman road over the Brenner Pass and Mittenwald, the great highways the Roman legions built across the Alps.

A Roman bridge path, connecting these main highways, ran along the Ammer valley. Up to this day one can distinguish two absolutely different types of people in these districts: The blond, Germanic one and the dark-haired, swarthy type, which indicates that many of the Roman legionaries, who were stationed in fortified posts along the roads, to guard them against the unruly mountain tribes, had settled in the pleasant Ammer valley, after their term of service expired.

The natural artistic talents of the Upper Bavarians found their strongest expression in Oberammergau. Long before anyone outside of Bavaria ever heard its Passion play, the wood carvings made in Oberammergau were known in the farthest corners of Europe.

Already in the sixteenth century the chieftains and chieftresses carved in Oberammergau spread the fame of the village in Russia, Scandinavia and Spain. Throughout the latter country, the Jesuits, during the times of the Inquisition, ordered all Oberammergau carvings to be burnt because the Bavarian idea of rendering the holy subjects did not coincide with the dogmatic Roman Catholic ideas of the Inquisitors.

The carvings, the stone-sculptured war memorial, erected next to the church, the paintings on many of the houses and the Passion Play music, all testify to the high artistic qualities of the Oberammergauers. Many of the Bavarian mountain villages have their specific local arts. Berchtesgaden and Partenkirchen are known for their fine violins and other string instruments. Several villages perform the Passion Play, but their productions are crude compared with the natural dramatic art of the players of Oberammergau.

Have Left Their Stamp

Centuries of Passion Plays have left their stamp upon these people. Even during the ten years' interval between the "Plays," the Oberammergauers live under the spell of the sacred tragedy. More than one year before each Passion Play season, the village begins to take on an altered appearance. On Ash Wednesday of the year-preceding the Passion Play an 18 months' Lenten Tide begins for the people of Oberammergau, and as time progresses, the Bavarian mountaineers even outwardly change into Biblical figures.

Since February, 1929, the hair of the male Oberammergauers has not been touched by the barbers' scissors. As the historical tradition permits no make-up of any kind, the men grow long beards and locks, for nobody knows until a few months before the first play what part will be assigned to him, and only Pilate and the Roman soldiers have close-cropped hair.

Especially during the winter months preceding the Passion play season, the village assumes a most unique appearance. Young men with long beards and locks, confined by bandeaux, and boys with their hair tied up by a string in the fashion of the old Teutons, come from the mountain sides on their skis, for the young Oberammergauers are great sportsmen.

The carpenters and masons working on the new Passion Play theater, the painters, who renovate the house fronts, the journeymen, who unload lumber or push carts and wheelbarrows with building materials through the streets, all wear long locks and beards. All Oberammergauers were feverishly busy during the last months, for preparations had been long delayed by lack of funds. The enlargement of the theater and the new construction of the stage cost the community $200,000.

As usual, every house was renovated inside and outside before the Passion play season, and as the enlarged theater holds 1,000 seats more than the old one, lodgings for 1,000 more guests had to be provided. It is no small achievement for a village of only 2,181 inhabitants to provide for 5,000 guests at each performance of the play. The surplus funds of the last Passion play season in 1922 have been swept away by inflation. The community's reserve funds were washed away by the inundation of 1928.

Anthony Wayne Eulogized In New Road Through Ohio

Leader Who Delivered Ohio From Indians Will Give Name To Highway; Work Progress On Project To Touch Many Small Towns

(By The Associated Press)

TOLEDO, O., June 13.—"Mad" Anthony Wayne, the blue-coated hero of Stony Point and the deliverer of Ohio from the Indians, is to be eulogized in a practical sense by a new highway, rapidly nearing completion.

The "Anthony Wayne Memorial Trail," which extends from this teeming lake city on the east to Fort Wayne, Indiana, on the west, will, it is believed, before long stretch a hard surfaced length over the ground where once the intrepid colonial soldier led his troops as he drove the red men farther west. The site of the new highway skirts the Maumee river, and passes through many small Ohio cities, which are rich in the tradition of the fighter. When it is completed, the new artery of traffic will be one of the most scenic in the United States.

Follows Maumee River

The Maumee is followed for most of the distance between the two cities. Among the historic spots through which it is thought the new highway will pass is Defiance, where a park has been village has to incur for the play and taking into account, that most of the Oberammergauers cannot follow their professions for almost one year, the charges for tickets, lodging and board are very moderate. The people taking part in the play receive no salary for the play proper, which lasts from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m., and will be performed almost every second day this summer, but a small recompense for their loss of time.

Anton Lang, who played the part of Christ, received only $500 in 1922. Almost 600 men, girls and boys appear on the stage. Two hundred men form the technical personnel and a strong guard has to be maintained, for during every play season there are threats from fanatics to set fire to the theater. The married women, who are not permitted to take part in the play, are amply occupied by providing for the guests. The whole village knows only one purpose, "The Play."

The Americans coming to Oberammergau are usually puzzled by the frequency of the family name Lang. There are more than 300 Oberammergauers of that name. All of them are descendants of one Joseph Lang, of Trauchgau, who settled in Oberammergau in 1730. His three sons, Andrew, Nicholas and George, are the progenitors of the three branches of the great Lang family.

The lineage of Andrew Lang is represented in this year's play by Lewis Lang, the Barnabas; Anton Lang, the Christ of 1900, 1910 and 1922, the Prologus of 1930; and George Lang, the manager of the play, belong to the branch of Nicholas Lang. Alois Lang, the Christ of 1930, is a great-great-grandson of George Lang, of whom Hans Lang, the John of the Passion Play, also is a descendant.

LOBBY GROUP TO TAKE NO ACTION

Contempt Charges Not To Be Lodged Against Churchman

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 13.—The senate lobby committee will take no action against Bishop James Cannon, Jr., for refusing to answer questions and abruptly leaving the witness stand.

The transcript of his testimony however, will be laid before the senate and a variety of opinion is expressed as to what may be expected to follow.

Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, believes the vice president is required by law to lay before the district attorney the fact that Cannon refused to answer questions and that the district attorney must in turn carry the case before a grand jury.

Chairman Caraway disagrees. He contends Cannon was within his rights and bases this belief upon the committee's ruling it had no power to investigate the bishops' political activities.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, until the question of the transcript, maintains nothing can be relevancy of the interrogations put to Cannon is executive in the senate.

Meeting in executive session late yesterday, the committee agreed not to require answers from Cannon on his campaign against Alfred E. Smith and decided to submit the transcript of the Bishop's testimony to the senate.

Two proposals for action against the dry leaders were defeated. The first was a motion by Senator Walsh to ask the senate for authority which would cover the Cannon case and the second a motion by Blaine that the bishop be cited for contempt. The voting was three to two and four to one. Blaine and Walsh supporting the first motion and only Blaine the second.

It was believed probable today that the committee had reached the end of its inquiry.

MILLIONS LISTED IN IMPROVEMENT

Merger Of Ohio Institution Will Bring Large Expenditures To Great Advantages

CLEVELAND, June 13.—Improvements totaling $9,000,000 within the next year are expected to result from the cooperative arrangement of Western Reserve university and Case School of applied science.

Directly resulting from the agreement, under which the two schools will avoid duplication in subjects, will be a $3,000,000 joint science laboratory.

A $750,000 dormitory will be built for Adelbert college of Western Reserve as the central unit of a $4,000,000 quadrangle for student residents.

A committee in a few days will work out details of the cooperative agreement with the hope of having it in effect by the beginning of the September terms.

RESOLUTION NO. 300,603-C
Declaring it necessary to improve South Woodland Avenue from East State Street to Maple Street by paving the same with a pavement twenty-eight (28) feet in width.

NOW THEREFORE,
Be it resolved by the Council of the City of Salem, State of Ohio, three-fourths of all members elected thereto concurring:

Section 1.—That it is necessary to improve South Woodland Avenue from East State Street to Maple Street by paving the same in the following manner, to wit: with a pavement twenty-eight (28) feet in width.

Section 2.—That the grade of said street as improved shall be the existing grade and that the grade of the curbs shall conform to the elevation at the center of the street.

Section 3.—That the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of the proposed improvement herebefore prepared by the engineer and now on file in the office of the director of public service, be and the same are hereby approved.

Section 4.—That the whole cost of said improvement, less one-fifth thereof and the cost of intersections shall be assessed by the front foot upon the following described lots and lands, to wit: All lots and lands bounding and abutting upon the proposed improvement, which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be specifically benefited by said improvement; and the cost of said improvement shall include the expense of the preliminary and other surveys, and of printing and publishing the notices, resolutions and ordinances required, and the cost of construction, together with interest on notes and bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments, and all other necessary expenditures.

Section 5.—That the assessments so to be levied shall be paid in five annual installments, with interest on deferred payments, at the same rate as shall be borne by the bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof; provided that the owner of any property assessed, may, at his option, pay such assessment in cash within thirty days after the passage of the assessing ordinance.

Section 6.—That bonds of the City of Salem shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments by installments and in an amount equal thereto; and notes of said city shall be issued in anticipation of the levying of such assessment and the issue of such bonds.

Section 7.—That the remainder of the entire cost of said improvement, not specially assessed, including the cost of intersections, together with the cost of any real estate or interest therein, purchased or appropriated, and the damages awarded any owner of adjoining lands and interest thereon, and the costs and expenses of any such award, shall be paid by the issuance of bonds in the manner provided by law.

Section 8.—This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

MARKETS

STOCKS TOUCH LOWS
NEW YORK, June 13.—Numerous utilities, rails and motor accessory shares again touched new lows for the year under the light selling pressure evident in the forenoon stock trading today. Losses averaged 2 points in the utilities. American Telephone sold down to 214, a new 1930 minimum, and sympathetic weakness spread throughout the list.

The motor picture group was heavy. Coppers were sold on news of a reduction in export prices.

Allied Chemical, Auburn Auto, Louisville & Nashville, Loew's International Harvester and R. H. Macy lost several points. New York Central, Johns-Manville, Underwood-Elliott-Fisher, Lambert, Gillette, Paramount Public, Fox, Mack Truck and Talumet & Arizona met support after dipping below yesterday's close and soon showed a gain of more than a point.

Call money renewed at 9 1/2 per cent, the lowest since two and a half years.

NATIONALISTS IN BOMBAY PARADE

Win Technical Victories Over Police After Long Wait

POONA, INDIA, June 13.—The military authorities here have received an urgent message from Bombay asking that a whole battalion of the 45th Mahattas, 500 strong, be sent to Bombay immediately.

Bombay advices said troops had been summoned in haste from other places also presumably in connection with enforcement of the anti-picketing ordinances, against which the national congress working committee in the last few days had appealed to all its followers.

BOMBAY, INDIA, June 13.—Eight hundred nationalist volunteers won technical victories over police a few minutes after midnight when after hours of waiting they were allowed to hold a parade in mourning at proclamation of martial law at Sholapur just one month ago.

During the day yesterday the volunteers, 400 of whom were women in Saffron attire and 400 of whom were men dressed in white, attempted to lead a parade toward the Maidan Esplanade. Police, with orders to prevent their advance through the end of the day, when the restriction on parades was to expire, surrounded them and refused to let them go forward.

The volunteers sat down to wait, holding their positions for hours until midnight when the police withdrew. The volunteers then, with 25,000 sympathizers who had gathered rushed down into the fort, or European area, screaming and shouting. They held a mass meeting in the forbidden area and then dispersed peacefully.

Boy Really Father of Man, Says This Writer

Boys are really fathers of their dad if the latter are conscientious parents, according to Frederic Van de Water, in Woman's Home Companion.

Fathers begin, he explains, by assuming a saintly attitude to impress the youth by example, but they soon find that the youngsters are catching them in the very things they preach against.

"As months march past I find myself dissembling less," says the writer. "Besides expurgating my speech and standing when women enter, I have acquired other virtues. I fold my napkin after each meal. I am polite over the telephone. I am dressed in time for breakfast. I hang up my overcoat and I wipe out the tub after my bath. My son does few of these things without prompting, but, anyway, he will not be able to say that he observed his father in a similar offense."

"By the time he is twenty he will be pretty much like other men of his age. I have no illusions in that direction. But I am certain of one thing: By the time he is twenty I shall be a well-bred, well-groomed, tolerant, diligent man and I shall have him to thank for it."

Institute Report
Investment of funds of the Neville Institute, East Liverpool, produced a net return of $1,303.55 for the last fiscal year closing June 9, according to a report filed with Probate Judge Lodge Riddle by W. E. Dunlap, treasurer.

Realty Transfers
The following real estate transfers have been filed for record: Nellie Copenhaver and others to Annie B. Reed, lot 5435 C. A. Smith's addition East Liverpool, $5. William A. Cox and others to County Commissioners 1.30 acres, section 2, Perry township for road purposes, $41.

Calvin L. Glass and others to Helen G. Zeigler, lot 2, Waterworth's addition, Salem, $10.

Terrell Andrei and wife to Ida C. Miller, lot 974 Appraiser's addition, Salem, $10.

Rich Richard

After all these years it is revealed that Ben Franklin—who said it was hard for an empty sack to stand on end, and a stitch in time saves nine, and "early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy and wealthy and wise," did not abide by his own recommendations. The sly Ben by no means invariably turned in at nine o'clock and out at four. He liked to sit up with the boys—and girls—as well as any one, making merry far into the night.

He did follow the "Poor Richard" precepts in youth, however—and they worked. Early to bed and early to rise made him healthy and wealthy first, and then wise enough to stay up and see the fireworks afterward.—Exchange.

Has Been Postponed

The daughter of the house arrived home one night looking very sad.

"Whatever's the matter?" asked her mother.

"Oh, I thought John loved me," the girl explained, "but now I know he's not going to propose—at least not for some time."

"Why, how do you know?" asked her mother.

"Because he sent me a big box of stationery with my initials monogrammed on it—and there's enough to last me for six months."

REPRIEVE SAVES LIVES OF THREE

Order Comes After Men Had Prepared To Die in Chair

(By The Associated Press)
ELDIVILLE, KY., June 13.—Three men who had sat through the long night awaiting death in the electric chair were granted stays of execution here today after they had heard the deadly whirr of an electric motor that sent two others to death.

J. L. Huggett, state pardon commissioner, read Gov. Sampson's indefinite stay of execution for the three negroes, Loyd Williams, 24, John Keller, 27, and James Grigsby, 38, right after Ballard E. Ratcliffe, 35, a white man and Richard Edmonds, 35, a negro had been executed. Official witnesses and newspapermen at western state penitentiary were waiting to reassemble for Grigsby's execution when the order was read.

Ratcliffe died first.

The two men met death calmly. There was no demonstration from the three men as Warden Gumm told each one his life was saved for a time at least.

"Gory be," said Williams and his words were echoed by the other two, but there was none of the fervor, outwardly at least, that had marked their words of "I'm ready; I'll be with Jesus" with which they had told newspapermen goodbye earlier in the night.

Fuel Shortage Causes Tiny Craft To Tie Up For Night; Was Bound For Akron

JEFFERSON, June 13.—After battling a 50-mile headwind for five hours and a half, the blimp Defender, returning to Akron from the Shriner's convention at Toronto, was forced to land here last night.

Pilot Jack Boettner said he was reduced to 75 gallons of gasoline by the strenuous trip and was reluctant to go further.

The ship had to circle overhead for some time while enough men were aroused to pull her down safely, and then barely miss a high tension wire.

HELEN BECOMES RUMANIAN QUEEN

Marie Returns From Play Greeted Warmly By Large Crowd

BUCHAREST, RUMANIA, June 13.—Princess Helen of Greece, divorced wife of King Carol II and mother of Prince Michael, today became Queen Rumania.

The transition was accomplished with publication in the official gazette of a royal decree authorizing "her royal highness, Princess Helen, to bear the title, 'her majesty'."

Carol's act was accomplished in line with his reasoning that parliament's annulment of the acts of banishment and renunciation of January 4, 1926 had made him king before the day of his father's death. Helen, not divorced from until later, similarly became queen at that date.

It was understood, although not so stated, that Helen would be crowned with Carol, possibly as early as October. Some further legal procedure may be necessary to make this possible, but it was believed the arrangement would be effected for Michael's sake if a personal reconciliation has not taken place by then.

Queen Helen was not at the railway station when Queen Marie, Carol's mother, arrived aboard the orient express from Munich and Oberramgau, but King Carol—attired as a general of aviation—Grand Voivode Michael, her daughter, Elizabeth of Greece and Prince Nicholas were on hand with troops and government officials. A great crowd rendered a welcome which Rumanians said never had been surpassed for warmth.

NEW DISORDERS IN OHIO PRISON

Clubs Subdue Leaders At Mansfield Reformatory;
Send For Aid

MANSFIELD, June 13. — The threat of swinging clubs and tear gas bombs had restored order at the Mansfield reformatory today after a second outbreak within less than two weeks during which guards beat the ringleaders of 1,500 howling, milling inmates into submission.

The latest disturbance occurred during the "big supper" hour late yesterday when the 1,700 prisoners in the dining room became noisy, tipped over tables and hurled their stools around. Two hundred of the inmates fled outside, apparently with the intention of avoiding injury rather than attempting escape. Thirty Mansfield police and Richland county deputy sheriffs, armed with tear gas bombs and riot guns, augmented the prison guard at the request of Superintendent T. C. Jenkins when he feared the situation might become serious.

The disorder was put down when guards entered the dining room and clubbed down a few of the ringleaders. Six of the men believed to have inspired the outbreak were in corrective cells today.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Hunt were called to Buffalo this morning due to the sudden death of Mrs. Hunt's father, Frank A. Keil.

Grange Holds Rose Festival Thursday

A profusion of roses were on display at Salem grange hall Thursday evening when the grange held a Rose festival and observed Neighbors night, entertaining about 100 visitors from Perry, Willow Grove and Butler Granges. Each person in attendance wore a rose. The visitors were welcomed by Price Cope, master of the grange. Responses were given by Earl Walton, Butler; Frank W. Fults, Willow Grove, and Orval Bates, Perry, each master of their respective grange.

The Willow Grove grange orchestra gave selections. Other numbers were: Reading, Mrs. Palmer King, Butler; vocal duet, Wanda and Rachel Cope, with Wanda playing the accompaniment, Salem; reading, Mary Bates, Perry; piano duet, Earl and Wilford Mercer, Butler; talk, "Origin of the Flag," Mrs. Mary McConner, Perry; rose dance, Evelyn Sheen, Perry.

Attacks Official Lands In Prison

AKRON, June 13. — Theodore Nunn, 23, had prospects of getting a marriage license after all today despite a night in jail for aiming a swing at Probate Judge Lewis D. Slusser, but not until he got a good talking to.

Nunn applied for a license yesterday, but didn't know that because his prospective bride was under age, he should have brought her mother along.

Judge Slusser refused to grant the license. Nunn objected with vigor, "You're only a wise-cracking judge," said Nunn and swung a stiff right at the judge's head.

The judge ducked, collared Nunn and had him put in jail, but announced that after a lecture this morning Nunn might obtain the license "if he is so disposed."

Merchants Sue For Rerouting Highway

NORWALK, June 13.—Damage claims totalling $235,000 were on file today against the state highway department in behalf of 40 Norwalk individuals and corporations who complained that the rerouting of U. S. highway No. 20 through the Bellevue cutoff had injured their businesses. The Bellevue cutoff was built after 19 persons lost their lives in a bus wreck at the triple grade crossing at the old road in January, 1929.

Given Sentence

ATHENS, June 13.—Peter Wollett, 64, of Nelsonville, today was under sentence of 10 days in jail after spending a year in prison awaiting trial. He was charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Victor Arnico, but was allowed to plead guilty to assault and battery.

Asks Divorce

CLEVELAND, June 13.—Alleging his wife, Mrs. Dorothy May Whitney, neglected him in refusing to go on trips necessitated by his work, Alexander F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, has filed suit for divorce.

Schmeling Wins From Sharkey On Foul In Fourth Round

Boston Gob Well Out In Front When Blow Lands; Judge Rules

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 13.—The fight world that had hoped to wake up today to celebrate the crowning of a new and undisputed world's heavyweight champion discovered, instead, that it had just another headache, hangover and controversy.

Max Schmeling won on a foul from Jack Sharkey within the last six seconds of the fourth round of what was to have been the decisive battle for the heavyweight title last night at the Yankee Stadium but they left the situation as chaotic as were the wild scenes accompanying the abrupt finish of the match.

Severely battered though he had been, the black-thatched 24-year-old German youth, who looks, bobs and weaves like the one and only Jack Dempsey, emerged with what- ever honors and title claims go with the victory. He may, for the time being, be put at the top of the heavyweight class, at least by his own countrymen and by the New York State Athletic commission, which proclaimed its right before-hand to crown the winner as the new champion of the world and successor to Gene Tunney, who retired two years ago.

Gets Name On Trophy
Schmeling's cause may be espoused further by the National Boxing association and he is a candidate at least for the inscription of his name upon the Muldoon-Tunney trophy, emblematic of championship recognition so far as its donors are concerned. But today, cold analysis of the unsatisfactory and disappointing climax to a two-year search for a fit monarch of heavyweight ranks appeared to offer no sound basis for proclaiming the young German possessor of the honors universal in scope, where neither of the principals in the main test, before-hand, held any clear or undisputed claim to championship position.

Dark-browed, likeable, courageous Max, experts may hold, should not be penalized and deprived of recognition for events beyond his control, but the fact remained that Schmeling was carried bodily and in apparently great pain from the ring last night, the winner, but a badly battered one.

Hurt By Punch
Schmeling was hurt by a punch that was unquestionably low after having been decisively outboxed and outpuncher by Sharkey, who with one erratic blow of his fist swept away the high honors that seemed almost certain to be his. The German crumpled to the floor, to be carried to his corner and declared the victor only a few minutes after it seemed he was on the verge of being cleanly knocked out, in the third round, when the American battered his young rival all over the ring with a vicious sustained two-fisted onslaught.

In the third round, Sharkey had Schmeling groggy and a quick victory apparently in his grasp. A round later, the tables were reversed with such startling rapidity that scenes of the wildest disorder and confusion developed.

The fatal and final blow, intended as a left hook for the stomach but somehow unintentionally misdirected, was delivered as the fighters were close together along the ropes, with the top of the gong ending the fourth round only a few seconds away.

Referee On Opposite Side
The referee, Jimmy Crowley, on the opposite side of the ring, with Sharkey's back between him and Schmeling, failed to see the punch. Withholding his decision, as the German sank writhing in agony to the floor, Crowley hesitated and was almost instantly surrounded and harassed by the managers, second and handlers of the two fighters as he sought advice from officials on either side of the ring. With the clamor still at its height and the crowd in complete uproar, Crowley finally accepted the unqualified judgment of one of the judges, Harold Barnes, and pronounced Schmeling the victor on a foul.

Barnes was the only one of the three officials to have an unobstructed view of the final blow and he unhesitatingly called it grounds for disqualification of the American.

Finish Shocks Crowd
The finish was a shock to the big crowd estimated at more than 70,000 spectators, who had contributed to an estimated "gate" of $740,000, the largest in three years, in the hope of seeing the long-existing heavyweight muddle cleared up by a clean-cut victory for either Sharkey or Schmeling. Fans and experts had established Sharkey as the favorite and, after the third round, expected to see him produce one of his most impressive triumphs. Instead they saw the big and temperamental Bostonian "blow" his best chance for championship recognition, much as by his erratic work he had tossed away two previous chances to climb the heights.

It was in the same spot that Sharkey failed in his first test, a knockout victim of Jack Dempsey in a bout in 1927 that provoked a spirited "foul or fair" debate afterward. A year later, the former sailor's mediocre defeat against Tom Henney and a defeat at the hands of Johnny Risko robbed him of a right to challenge Gene Tunney in the latter's farewell ring appearance, last winter, in Miami.

Sharkey was awarded a questionable knockout victory over the Englishman, Phil Scott, whose claims of foul were disallowed. The beneficiary of official ruling then, Sharkey last night was the victim of his own and off-pronounced lack of control.

Sharkey Appears Confident
Sharkey entered the ring at the stadium supremely confident, an American flag draped around his shoulders and a disdainful sneer on his face that, not even the raucous boos, mingled with the cheers for him, seemed to affect. Events throughout most of the first three rounds sustained this outward confidence of the American "hope," for Sharkey exhibited a coolness, a calculating mode of attack that was reminiscent of his best days, of his successful battles with Wills, Maloney and Loughran. Yet at the finish he was once again balked by the ineffectiveness and wildness that has always marked his fights against foreign-born foes.

Romero-Rojas, Risko, Henney, Scott and now Schmeling.

Savagely, in the third round, the bigger, harder-hitting Sharkey attacked his crouching, weaving rival. Max was rocked by piston-powered blows to the head, doubled up by pile-driving lefts to the ribs and stomach.

Schmeling Fights Back
Badly punished Schmeling kept his feet and fought back gamely. Smelling salts and ice helped revive him between rounds and he came out aggressively in the fourth to

Red-Thatched Ice Man of Illinois Appears in New Role

Galloping Ghost Now Does His Field Running on Night Club Floor.

WHITE IN COLLEGE and NOW IN THE NIGHT CLUB.

LOS ANGELES, June 13.—Harold "Red" Grange, idol of twenty million football-crazy Americans, is working in a night club.

The feat that once raced to fame over frost-bitten football fields are now tapping out fox trots in jazz-land.

To blaze Broadway, which has seen murderers, champion boxers and lady aviators become vaudeville headliners and smilingly watched Russian grand duchesses metamorphosed into tearoom hostesses, the news is no surprise.

But Main Street and a hundred college campuses are dazed to hear that America's greatest halfback has become master of ceremonies in a California cabaret.

Since the mighty Grange emerged from the portals of the University of Illinois several years ago he has been in turn a professional football box-office attraction, a sports promoter and a movie star. But all his post-college activities have been identified one way or another with the athletic activities that first screamed his name across newspaper front pages.

Even his picture debut was made in a movie built around the college gridiron career. But since he first turned his back upon amateur sport six years ago, Red has been dogged by a curiously persistent understudy star.

His efforts to capitalize transcontinental marathons and other ventures with his friend, C. C. (Cash-and-Carry) Pyle, cost him a fortune.

After making a film or two, his movie contract was not renewed. Hollywood magnates said that Red Grange, as a picture star, was a flop or, at best, a momentary box-office attraction.

From his first intercollegiate football game in 1923 Grange's brilliant end runs, drop kicks and line plunges marked him as a coming sensation. The following three years with Illinois confirmed this prediction. The West had never seen such an amazing athletic performer. Single-handed he again and again sent the powerful Western university elevens down to defeat. Coming East he surpassed himself in 1925 against Pennsylvania.

At the end of that year Grange quit amateur football and Illinois. Pyle, his manager, rushed him into a schedule of two or more games each week. Sporting experts predicted the red-thatched ice man force Sharkey back for the first minute of fighting. The American was wary of the German's right after it thudded briskly to his temple. Sharkey seemed again in command when the foul occurred.

Schmeling, in the brief opportunity afforded him, exhibited little effective punching, except with a straight right snapped from his deceptive crouch. He landed twice in the second round with this blow, as well as in the fourth. The German was fast and bowed well but was handled easily in the clinches by Sharkey who weighed 197 to his opponent's 188 and looked to have twice that advantage in left.

NEW YORK.—William Beebe, who is studying things underneath the sea off Bermuda, has cabled the New York Times that he has gone down 1,426 feet in a steel ball, "checked and double checked."

Warren Eagles Play Dun Eden Outfit Sunday

Lefty Gantz To Oppose Invading Nine At Park Sunday

Dun Eden park's crack baseball team will clash up against some tough opposition for the first time since it suffered its lone defeat of the season, clashing with the strong Warren Eagles at Dun Eden lake park at 3 p. m. Sunday.

Lefty Gantz of Canton, veteran of many semipro pitching clinics and the park team's most recent addition, will hurl for Pete Scullion's team in an effort to annex his second straight victory. He humbled the Noble Shoes of Alliance last Sunday, casting through to an easy 21-4 victory.

The Eagles have stacked up against the peer of baseball talent in the Youngstown and Warren district and have come out on top in struggles with strong aggregations giving every indication that the Sunday center will be one of the best to be seen here this season.

Expect Large Crowd
Scullion plans to have the strongest available lineup on hand to oppose the invading nine. A record-breaking crowd is expected.

The Dun Eden team has a stiff schedule ahead of it for the remainder of the season. A game originally scheduled at Girard next Sunday has been cancelled and may be played here while on Sunday, June 29, the Realty Trusts of Youngstown will bring their rejuvenated lineup here. Malcolm Rush, former Salem High school star athlete, is included in the Trusts' lineup.

The Akron Firestones are scheduled at the park on July 4th with the Sharon, Pa., Merchants, one of the strongest teams in the Keystone state, scheduled at the park on July 6.

NEW YORK.—The disadvantages of the automobile are being offset by the radio, in the opinion of Dr. Walter Damosch. He told the music industries convention that the automobile has been a most potent factor in disrupting home life and expressed the belief that its influence would be offset by radio bringing to the home music, "the very cornerstone of civilization."

PHILADELPHIA.—Here's something for the long-hitting, girl golfers in their twenties to shoot at. Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, veteran, has done North Hills in 38-38—75 in a tournament.

Cleveland Pushes Into 2nd Place In American League Race; One Game From Top

(By The Associated Press)

While other clubs have been getting most of the publicity, Roger Peckinpaugh's Cleveland Indians have been attending strictly to business, taking all rivals as they come, until today they had pushed into second place in the American league standing, only a game behind the pace-setting Philadelphia Athletics.

Great pitching by Ferrell, Brown and Hudlin has been the outstanding feature of the Indians' upward surge since May 24. In the intervening three weeks, Peckinpaugh's men have won 14 games and lost only four.

Indians Take 6th.
The Indians' sixth consecutive victory yesterday and their second in a row from the Athletics enabled them to leap into second place while Washington was bowing to Chicago.

At the race stands now, all three leaders have lost 19 games with the A's winning 33; Cleveland 31 and Washington 30.

Clint Brown pitched great ball to give the Indians a shutout triumph over the A's, 4-0, granting only four hits. George Earnshaw pitched well but three of the eight hits he allowed were home runs, Morgan getting his 10th and 11th and Myatt another with one man on base.

The senators bowed to Chicago's Whitesox, 10-6, in a free-hitting battle that saw Ted Lyons chalk up his ninth victory of the season after three previous failures to get past his eighth.

The New York Yankees fell on Waite Hoyt and two successors for 22 hits, including Babe Ruth's 20th homer of the season, and trounced the Detroit Tigers, 14-2.

Red Sox Rally Short
Walter Stewart won his eighth victory for the St. Louis Browns, beating Boston, 6-5, but just managed to halt a Red Sox rally in the eighth inning that fell only one run short of a tie.

In the National league, Brooklyn stretched its lead to four and one-half games by beating Cincinnati, 3-2, while their leading rivals, the Chicago Cubs and New York Giants, were beaten.

Jake Flowers' pinch double with the bases loaded in the seventh gave the Robins their win, the hit scoring the tying and what proved to be the winning run. Ray Moss and Bennie Frey, starting hurlers, both were effective but gave way to pinch batsmen before the game was over.

Pittsburgh Halts Giants
Pittsburgh halted the New York Giants' nine-game winning streak, 10-7, bunting hits for five runs in the first and four in the seventh. Remy Kremer went the route for the Pirates allowing eight hits, three of which were home runs, two by Lindstrom and Mel Ott's 14th of the season. Bartell and Grant-ham hit for the circuit for the Pirates.

Claude Willoughby scored his first victory of the season as the Phillies beat the Cubs, 5-3, in a game halted by rain in the sixth. Chuck Klein got three singles for the Phils and ran his consecutive hitting streak to 29 games.

The St. Louis-Boston game was postponed.

What The Stars Did Yesterday

(By The Associated Press)
JAKE FLOWERS, Robins—His double with bases loaded in seventh drove in two runs and enabled Robins to beat Reds, 3-2.

CLINT BROWN, Indians—Held Athletics to four hits and blanked them, 4-0.

EARLE COMBS and LYN LARY, Yankees—Divided eight hits among them, drove in four runs and scored six as Yankees trounced Tigers, 14-2.

CHUCK KLEIN, PHILLIES—Got three singles as Phils beat Cubs and consecutive hitting streak to 29 games.

Hardware In Fifth Contest Of League

Electric Furnace Loses 6-2 Game; Cigars Win Over Mullins Team

Salem Hardware mushbailers won their fifth straight city softball league victory, handing the previously undefeated Electric Furnace aggregation a 6-2 setback in a classy game at Centennial park Thursday evening.

George Early, hurling for the near champions of the first half of the circuit, held the furnace-makers to three hits and allowed them to score in only one inning, the second, when both their runs crossed the plate. Five errors by the furnace and three by the hardware, two of them by Early, made red what otherwise was one of the finest battles of the season.

United Cigars played errorless ball back of the superb pitching of McPeely and easily defeated the Mullins Manufacturing corporation, team, 8-1. McPeely kept body-makers' safeties well scattered and was given spectacular support in the infield.

The winners registered only five hits off Jim Fitzpatrick's delivery but five errors proved a great aid in the Tobias' victory. Fitzpatrick's homerun in the first inning was the only run scored off McPeely. Baltimore, hard-hitting Cigars' outfielder, clouted his third homer of the season.

No games will be played off at the park this evening. Summaries:

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

A good brush may contribute much to beauty of hair, and it requires just as regular attention as the hair. The proverbial 40 strokes to make hair smooth and glossy should be administered with a brush that is deep, pleasantly stiff and, of course, quite immaculate. A brush does two things—helps untangle the hair and also spreads the natural oils. And to do these things adequately a certain stiffness is necessary.

If bristles soften, they can be restored to their earlier stiffness by dipping in alum water. But if a good quality, strong brush is purchased in the first place and is given frequent cleanings it should retain its firmness for a considerable period.

Frequent Cleansing

The quickest as well as most thorough way of cleansing a hair brush is to immerse it in a solution of ammonia water. Mix one teaspoon of ammonia with one quart of lukewarm water. Place comb and brush in it and let it soak for a minute or two. Then scrub brush and comb together, rinse in cold water, and rub dry with a thick Turkish towel. Do not dry in the sun—it may turn the bristles yellow.

MY SPRING FEVER
WAS YEAR ROUNDOwa-Ton-Na Eliminates Tired, Worn Out Feeling and Brings New Strength and Energy

"For months I suffered with a generally run down condition of health," says Mrs. Beanie Postle, 1513 14th St., S. W., Canton, Ohio. "No matter how light my food was, I suffered from gases and pains caused by indigestion. Terrible headaches often made life miserable. I was bilious and sawallow and badly constipated. My sleep was restless and broken and during the day I was weak, tired and worn out."

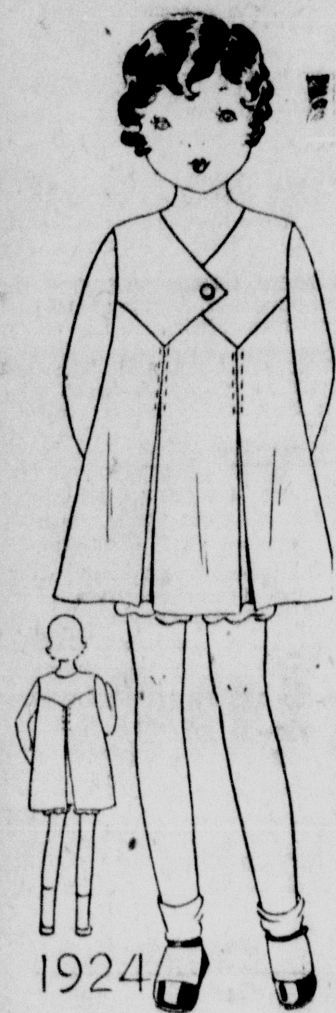

"I started to use Owa-Ton-Na and nothing ever surprised me more than my quick and remarkable improvement. In a short time I was eating anything without the least stomach trouble of any kind. Now my nerves are much better. I get up in the mornings rested and refreshed after a fine night's sleep, and I am so full of energy I feel like a different person. It is simply wonderful when I realize that my backaches, those terrible headaches and in fact every ache and pain are things of the past. Constipation and biliousness have been corrected. I am more than grateful for all this wonderful remedy has done for me."

Why be contented simply reading about the wonderful results others here in town get from Owa-Ton-Na. Decide at once to learn about this medicine of the Indians. Call today and obtain a bottle from your druggist. Owa-Ton-Na is sold in Salem at J. H. Lease Co. three stores. Adv.

Today's Pattern

SMART yet practical, tailored yet feminine, this delicious frock for the small girl. The unusual yoke points to inverted pleats that give additional fullness and grace. Of course, the frock is sleeveless for warm, summer days.

Pattern 1924 is simply adorable made of pale pink pique with the neck, yoke and armholes, bound in white braid. Indeed any of the pastel shades would be lovely—blue, yellow, green, orchid—bound with white. All white, or a print might be selected, also.

May be ordered only in sizes 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 4 requires 2 yards of 36 inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

COUPON

This pattern will be delivered upon receipt of 15c, coin or stamps, carefully wrapped. Latest Fashion, Book 10c. Send all orders to SALEM NEWS PATTERN DEPARTMENT, 243 WEST 17TH STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

If the brush has a fine polished back of ebony or glossy mahogany or other wood that might be injured by the ammonia solution it can be protected. Rub the wood with vaseline before dipping in the ammonia water, and leave it on until the bristles are thoroughly washed and dried, then remove. Wipe off every bit of vaseline and, if desired, polish later, and the back of the brush will look like new.

GRATE COMPANY SELLS TRACTOR

New Ford Plan Results In Salem Concern Taking Agency

Numerous improvements are noted in the new Fordson agricultural tractor, according to E. L. Grate Motor company, which has been notified of selection as local dealer under the new plan of distribution that places sales of Fordson in the hands of distributors and dealers of farm implements.

"Among the outstanding advantages of the improved Fordson, Mr. Grate said, "is an increase of 27.5 per cent in horse power over former models. The tractor will now develop 30 horsepower at 1,000 revolutions per minute which is equivalent to two and three-fourths miles per hour plowing speed."

New Magneto Type

A new high-tension magneto assures easier starting. A water-pump cooling system, another new feature, keeps the engine at the exact temperature for maximum efficiency. The air washer has been enlarged to hold seventeen quarts of water. The crankcase breathes into this washer to keep fumes from reaching the driver.

"Other improvements include a new lubricating system with a large filter screen to separate grit and carbon from oil as it circulates in the crankcase; a stronger and longer-wearing crankshaft, a redesigned transmission and heavier rear wheel fenders and platforms."

"Servicing of tractors, however, is to be continued by Ford car and truck dealers in conjunction with authorized implement dealers."

As Gallant Fox Won the Belmont Stakes

Sensational climax of Gallant Fox's stirring three-act race-track drama, as he romps to victory in the ancient Belmont Stakes. Thus does the famous horse go down in history as the first winner of the Preakness, the Derby and the Belmont classic since the days of old Sir

Barton. While a thrilled crowd of 60,000 watched through the dreary rain Sande brought his mount to victory.

Russell Gibbs and Don Carey, two Salem boys who own and operate the American Laundry and Dry Cleaning Co. Both of these men were raised in Salem. They both are very industrious and have built their plant and business to one of the most modern in this part of the state.

These Salem men deserve a great deal of credit for the way they have built their business. They took over this business when it was in a run down condition. They modernized the plant, making it a plant and a institution that all Salem is proud of. Success is almost assured men such as "Russell" and "Don" who are industrious and who have modern ideas.

Flying Governor Inspects Baby Plane

Governor Walter J. Kohler (left), of Wisconsin, inspecting the newest addition to the fleet of planes at the Kohler airport. In the cockpit of the tiny ship is Carl Kohler, the Governor's son. Standing beside the plane is Carl's young son. The plane, the first of its kind, is the baby of them all and unlike any ship built previously. It weighs only 400 pounds with gasoline and oil and is capable of attaining an altitude of more than 16,000 feet. Its two-cylinder air-cooled engine has a high speed of 85 miles an hour. It was purchased by Carl Kohler.

HARD-SOFT LARGE-SMALL CORNS
 Out To Stay Out — Roots and All
 Magic Oxygen Salts Bath Never Fails
 No More Burning Aching Feet

No matter how many corns you have or how painful they are—soak your feet for 15 minutes in a delightfully soothing and revitalizing Radox footbath for 3 or 4 nights—then lift corns and callouses right out—roots and all and they won't come back again unless you wear shoes again which aggravate your feet.
 No cutting or digging is required because Radox liberates oxygen which softens hard outer layers of corns, each night penetrating the pores further and further, carrying the salts right to roots of corns which are so loosened they can be lifted out bodily.
 Your feet are made strong—healthy—vigorous—hard skin on heels and toes goes also.
 J. H. Lease Drug Co., Three Stores and all good drug stores are stocked with Radox—if they aren't insist upon them ordering it if you want to experience great foot-joy and comfort. Adv

VAN AND SCHENCK

At The State
Gus Van and Joe Schenck, perhaps better known to vaudeville audiences throughout the country as "Van and Schenck," made their debut as talking film stars in "They Learned About Women," and gave every indication that the well known song and dance team are as finished performers on the screen as they have proven themselves to be on the "two-a-day."

There are a number of baseball games played in the picture which come a close second to the real thing for excitement, realistic portrayal and enthusiasm. One good reason for this is that the sequences were taken in a regular baseball stadium with hundreds of rooters sitting in the grandstands rather than on a studio set, and another good reason is that a number of professional baseball players were engaged for the picture, which gave it an authenticity hard to get otherwise.

However, the picture is by no means devoted purely to baseball. In actual life Van and Schenck deserted a baseball career to become vaudeville headliners and in "They Learned About Women," Jack and Jerry make a similar attempt. This gives them an opportunity to put over no less than ten catchy songs, written by Milton Ager and Jack Yellen.

At The Grand
"Venus" the picture at the Grand qualifies as an "unofficial" fashion show for Miss Constance Talmadge who has the principal part of Princess Beatrice Doriani appears in no less than twenty of the most beautiful gowns made especially for the film by the leading Paris dress-makers.

As her highness the princess is a person of discriminating taste and travels in the finest circles, the best could be none too good for her. Miss Talmadge herself exercised the utmost care in selecting each creation.

"BEAU BANDIT"
Radio pictures' colorful, outdoor all-talking photoplay, "Beau Bandit," is the second feature at the Grand bringing together for the first time in a picture, Rod La Rocque and Doris Kenyon.

La Rocque is again seen in the picturesque role of a romantic villain, while Miss Kenyon, for the first time, enacts a "western" part. The story is laid in the deserts of Arizona. It deals with the operations of a Mexican bandit against a posse of nervous deputy sheriffs.

Exterior scenes, representing four-fifths of the screen footage were photographed and recorded in the Mojave desert in southeastern California.

In the supporting cast are Mitchell Lewis, George Duryea, Walter Long, Charles B. Middleton and Jim Donlon. Lambert Hillyer directed.

COLUMBIANA

The Jolly Twenty-five club was entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Grossen, near New Springfield. On Thursday afternoon the members and their husbands and families enjoyed a picnic at Kelley's park.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Keller were at Oberlin Thursday, where their daughter, Miss Janet, was one of the graduates from the Kindergarten school of Oberlin college.

D. H. Hepburn has resumed his duties at the Citizens' Savings bank following a 10-day vacation spent with relatives at Waldo and also attending the reunion of his army outfit at Delaware.

Hubert Clapp has returned home after a visit of several days with his uncle, Dr. Clapp, and family, Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Paul Price will entertain Bridge club associates next Tuesday evening at her home, Woodland ave.

M. Coe and Martin Sunshine, Cleveland, were Columbiana business callers Wednesday morning.

Elmer Yoder, Gettysburg, Pa., has been spending several days with his father, John L. Yoder, and family, north of town.

GET WASTE OUT OF YOUR SYSTEM

Banish Constipation at the Start with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Look out when you wake up tired and stay tired. Beware of headaches, unpleasant breath. These are usually the first symptoms of constipation.

The trouble is that your intestinal system is clogged. You have eaten too many bulkless foods. But you can clean your system safely, if you start at once to eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a cereal that you can eat naturally. It sweeps the intestines clean of poisonous wastes. Far better than habit-forming pills and drugs.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Just eat two tablespoons daily—recurring cases with every meal. You'll like its crispness and flavor. Your system will benefit by its rich store of iron and healthful elements as well as by its roughage.

Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits and honey added. Use it in cooking. Recipes are on the package for muffins and griddle cakes. Sold by all grocers. Served by hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Back Home With Derby Prize

The three Doughertys, Dannie (left) Dad and Eddie, as they arrived back in New York after their delightful visit to Quebec to collect the $149,000 prize won on the recent English Derby at Epsom Downs. The father decided to relinquish his claim on the money so that the two boys could share it evenly. They promised to take good care of Dad, so now the Doughertys are really happy once more.
